Service Resistant Homeless People in the Palisades

We are making great strides in helping our homeless people off of our streets and into shelter thanks to the effective collaboration between our wonderful Law Enforcement and OPCC Outreach teams. The questions many of us still have are:

- What are the options for dealing with the homeless people living long-term on our streets, who desperately need but refuse services?
- Are they competent to make their life, and possibly death, decisions?
- According to the law, what can and cannot be done?
- What solutions do we have when their living conditions are disturbing and a hazard to the community and themselves?

Join us for an informative and important discussion about these questions and more.

Guest Speaker: Judge Michael Levanas

After 25 years of law practice, Palisadian Judge Michael Levanas was appointed a Los Angeles Superior Court Judge in 2005. In 2013 he was named Supervising Judge of Probate. Since 2014 he has been the Presiding Judge of Juvenile Court. Before being appointed to the bench, Judge Levanas was elected as a Los Angeles Superior Court Commissioner. He began his legal career with the Los Angeles County Public Defender's Office and then entered private practice and served as a panel attorney for dependency court.
